

Bojan Jorgić, PhD, Assist. Prof.

Faculty of Sport and Physical Education
University of Niš, Serbia

Has been working at this institution since December 2013, teaching five modules pertaining to adapted physical exercise and sport for people with disability. He finished postdoctoral study at the Department of Kinesiology, University of Virginia, USA, with mentor Professor Martin Block, former president of The International Federation of Adapted Physical Activity (IFAPA).

Topic of his postdoctoral study was practical and theoretical physical education of children with autism and intellectual disability.

He was participant of aqua therapy Halliwick course, lectured by Johan Lambeck, Budapest, Hungary.

He is one of founder and president of the Assembly of the "Association of Adapted Aquatics of Serbia- ADAPTS", and was president of the Serbian delegation at the 2nd international swimming camp for swimmers with disabilities in Istanbul, Turkey.

ITW topic

PHYSICAL EXERCISE FOR CHILDREN WITH AUTISM SPECTRUM DISORDERS

Lecture will include: definition of autism, etiology, incidence, motor abilities of children with autism, effect of exercise, assessment, activity selection, physical activity instructional strategy.